Why Sponsor GO BUILD 2026?

Academic Leadership and International Advisory Support

GO BUILD 2026 is guided by an international academic leadership team with strong links to universities and research institutions, particularly across Australia and other global regions. This academic governance ensures a rigorous peer-review process, high scholarly standards, and strong international relevance—providing sponsors with credible academic endorsement and institutional visibility.

Fully Online Format with Global Accessibility

The conference is hosted entirely online, removing geographic and travel constraints and enabling participation from a globally distributed audience across multiple time zones. This format significantly expands international reach and ensures efficient, scalable exposure for sponsoring organizations.

Academic–Industry Interface and Applied Visibility

GO BUILD 2026 actively fosters dialogue between academic researchers and industry practitioners by offering dedicated opportunities for industry-oriented presentations, sponsor talks, and applied research discussions. Sponsors may showcase technologies, solutions, or expertise in a context closely aligned with sustainable construction practices and innovation.

Long-Term Visibility and Sustainable Impact

All accepted abstracts will be permanently available on the Sciforum platform, complemented by recorded live sessions and post-conference materials accessible after the event.
